THE GRAND PARADE

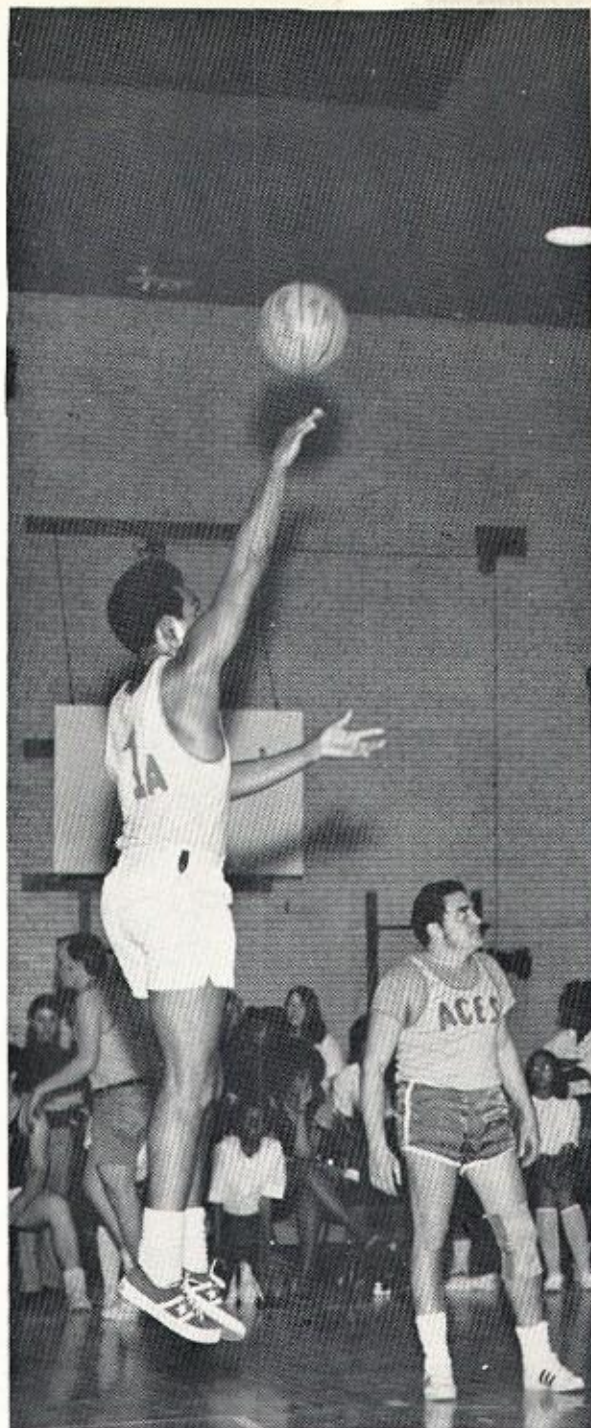

LANE TECHNICAL HIGH SCHOOL 1973 ARROWHEAD

DESIGNED, EDITED, AND PRINTED BY STUDENTS OF LANE HIGH SCHOOL CHICAGO, ILLINOIS 60618

FACES AND ACTIONS

September marks the beginning of a stream of exciting activities at Lane which engage every individual and group throughout the year. It is a continuous organized, spontaneous and transient parade of events, not necessarily confined to the classroom.

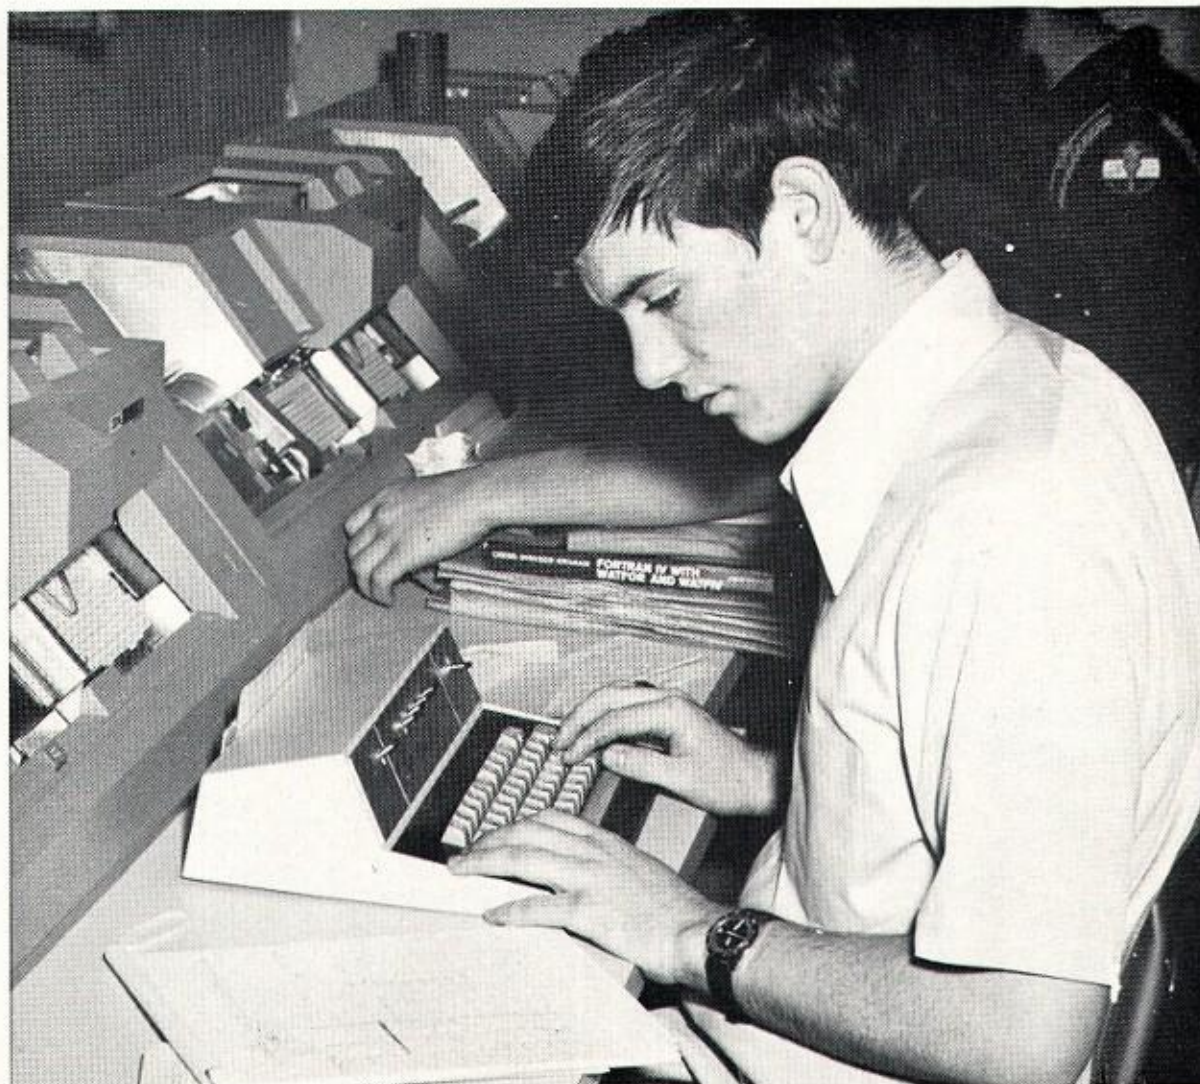

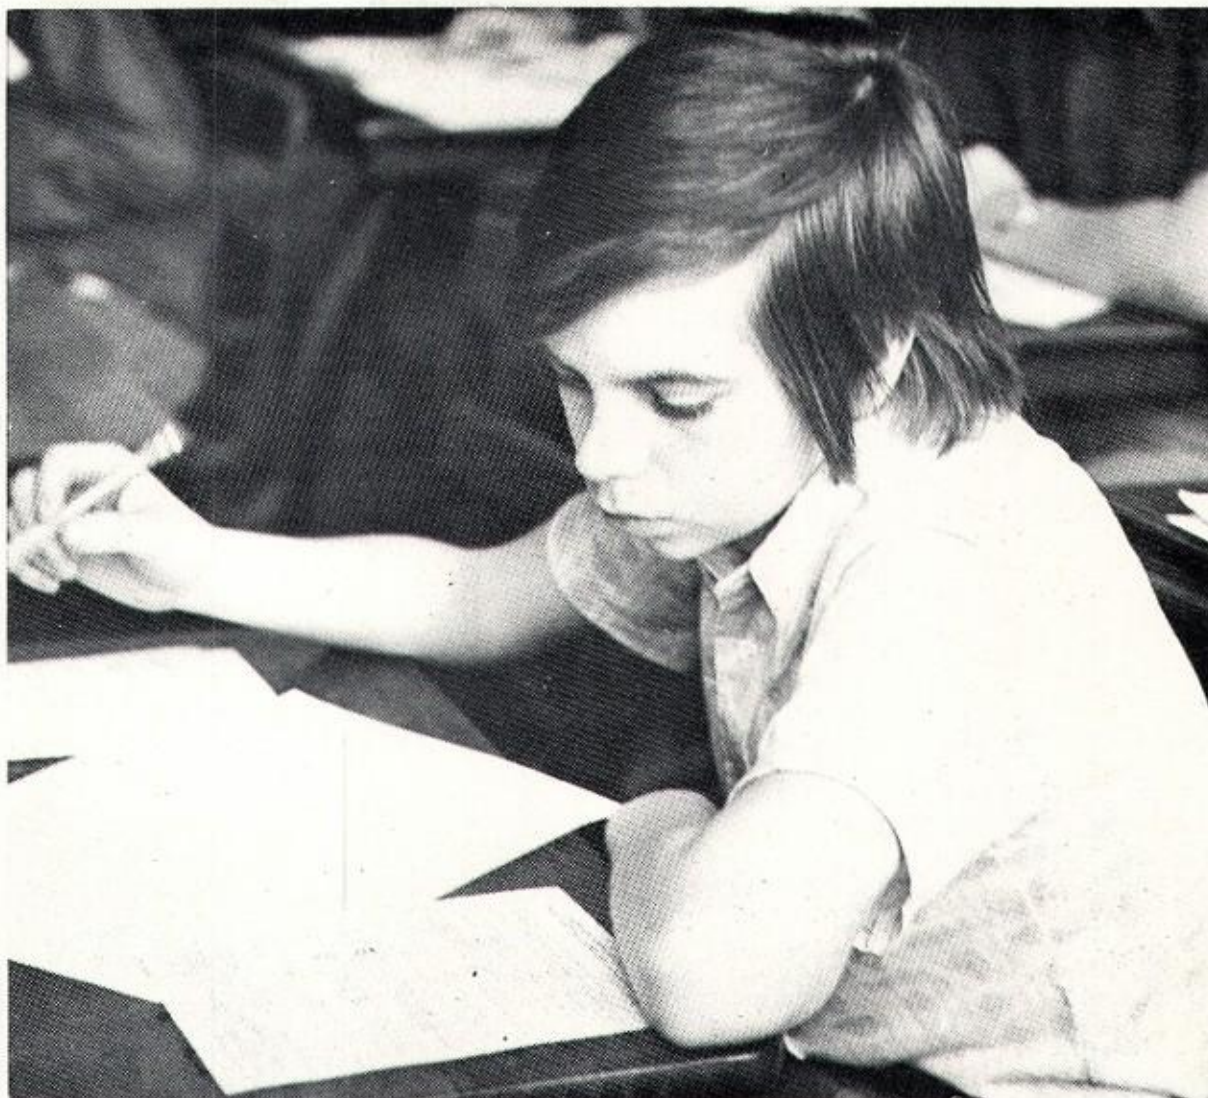

SUBSTANCE AND CHARACTER

Participants of yesterday's events herald today's exciting interest and provide a prologue for tomorrow's action on the scene.

Thus the Laneite's year marches to a varied rhythm of faces and actions, as in a GRAND PARADE.

ACHIEVEMENT AND HOPE

Both a beginning for some and a farewell performance for others, the GRAND PARADE has passed into memory, leaving behind in its wake a record of achievement and taking along a hope for the future.

Spellbound

Offered on an elective basis, courses in creative writing and journalism were added to the ENGLISH curriculum. Journalism students assumed the task of writing articles for the Warrior.

Because Mr. Keenan announced his intention to resign as English department chairman as of June, an election was held which resulted in the selection of Mr. DiCristofano as new chairman.

PORTRAYING CHARACTERS from mythology engaged in a musical contest, Alice Hansen is seen as Pan and Alice Uchida is Apollo.

DENISE MASANEK and Kathy Montgomery find that reading poetry is not so bad after all.

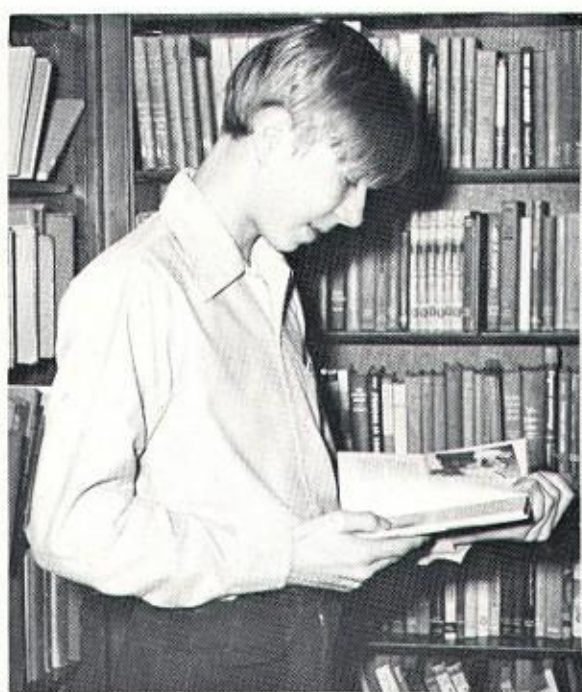

MEMBERS OF MS. Zarlenga's English Class bring mythology to life through dramatization of some of the tales of gods and heroes.

Book Nook

Lane's LIBRARY again gave students and faculty opportunities to obtain materials for reading and research during and after school hours. Open first through tenth periods daily, the library contains 26,000 books. Also contained in the library are magazines, recordings, pamphlets, filmstrips, tapes, and even a few microfilms.

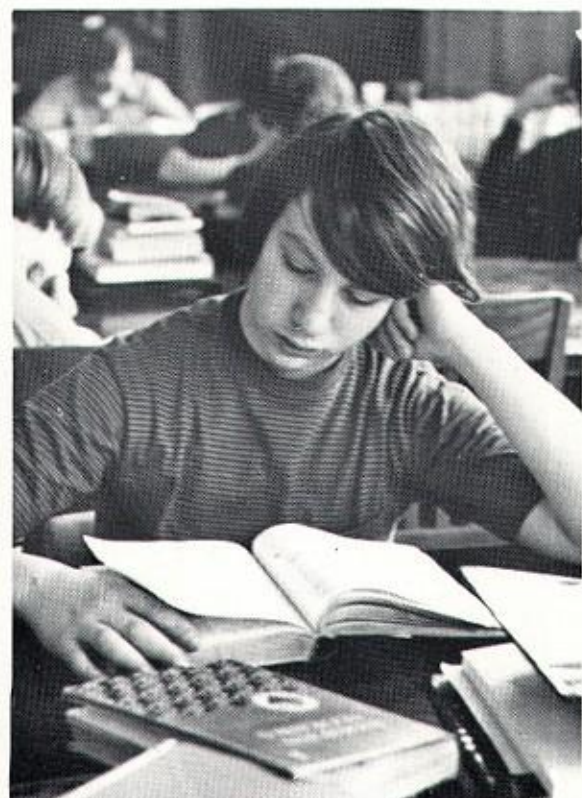

THE LIBRARY PROVIDES the perfect atmosphere for quiet studying.

THIS YOUNG MAN seems to be hooked on books as he looks through the stacks.

Mrs. Guagliardo and Mrs. Knapp see it all in the cards.

You Think You Have Problems?

Besides teaching the required algebra and geometry courses the MATHEMATICS DEPARTMENT offered algebra III, trigonometry and college algebra, and analytic geometry to all interested third and fourth year students.

Advanced placement calculus was offered to seniors having previously obtained credit in four years of math.

COMING UP WITH THE right answer took lots of concentration in the math contest.

MANY STUDENTS WORKED diligently in the M.A.A. contest.

IT LOOKS AS THOUGH these math students are studying a design for a roller coaster ride.

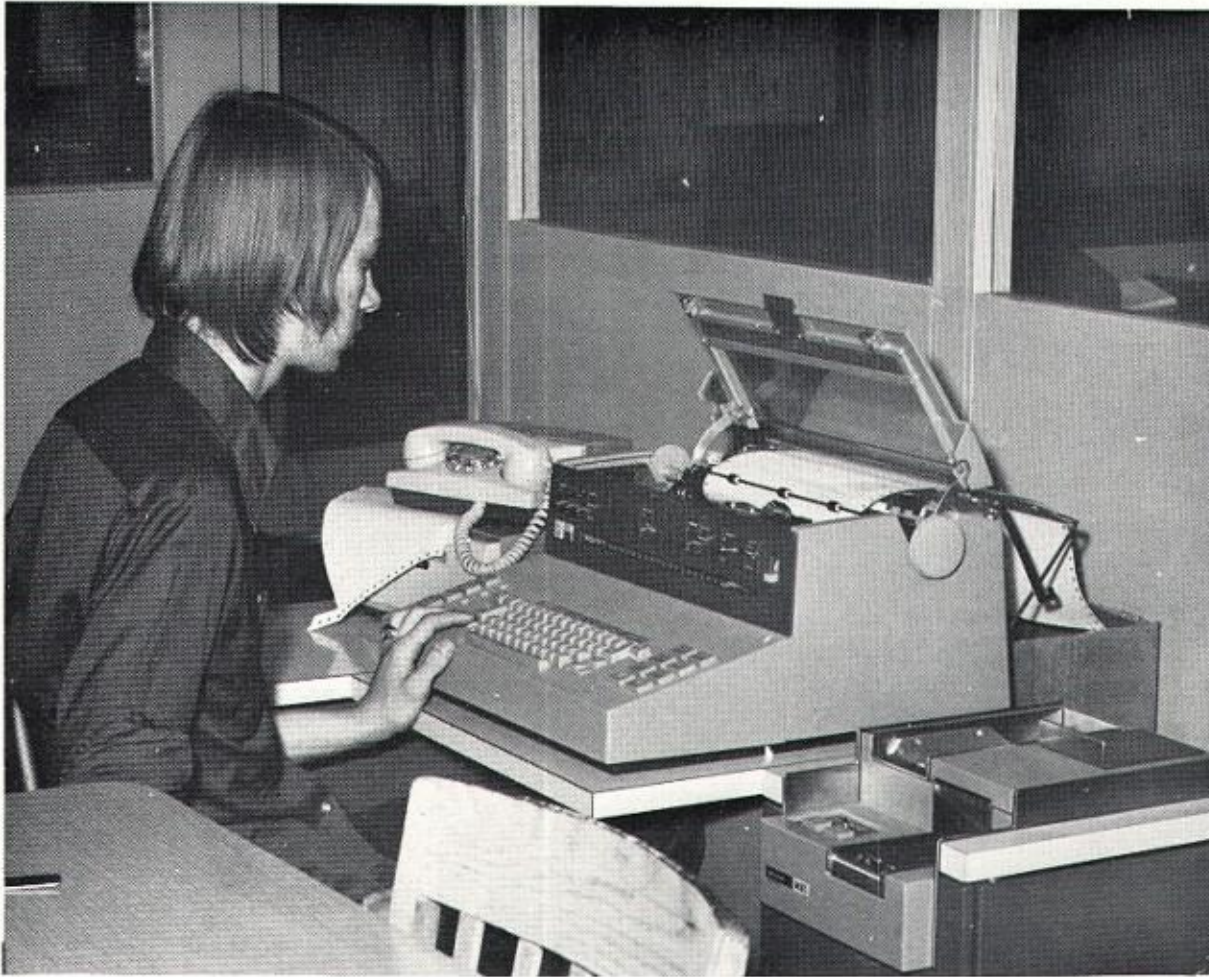

I GUESS YOU MIGHT SAY that these math students do have problems.

Watfiv was taught by the COMPUTER SCIENCE DEPARTMENT. This language offered more flexibility than Fortran IV and was easier to learn along with the mechanical skills needed to program the IBM 370 system. Since its pioneering days, the computer department has offered the most complete instruction available to secondary schools anywhere in the country.

THIS COMPUTER AIDE works to clear up a problem on one of the terminals.

Beakers Seekers

Changing their curriculum to cover more practical aspects of the chemical world, the CHEMISTRY DEPARTMENT obtained new textbooks pertaining to this new outlook. No faculty changes were made and under chairman Mr. William Lewis the department purchased new audio visual materials, such as overhead projectors, movies and filmstrips.

CHEMISTRY STUDENTS are performing a splint test for the combustability of a gas.

CHEM LAB STUDENTS don't seem to mind the photographer's interruption.

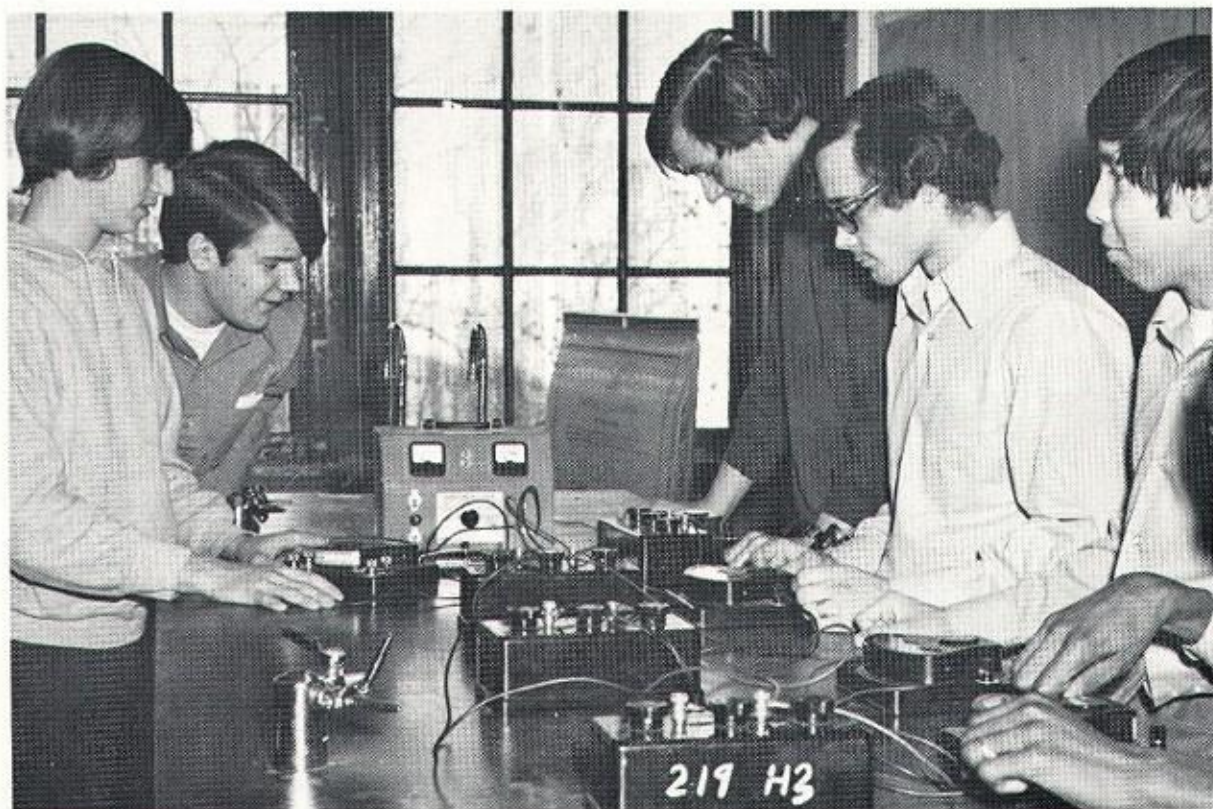

VERNON STUART IS INVOLVED in the results of his experiment.

Once again, the PHYSICS DEPARTMENT, headed by Mr. Maas, improved its teaching methods through the use of enlightening movies and new experiments. The students who were enrolled in the physics course were given the basic know-how in the upcoming fields of radioactivity, radar, and relativity.

TESTING FOR CURRENT with ammeters and galvanometers can be an electrifying experience.

GENERAL SCIENCE STUDENTS prepare for momentum experiments.

THE MOMENTUM EXPERIMENTS seems to be the feature of the moment.

Where There's Life

New Textbooks and audio visual materials aided the BIOLOGY DEPARTMENT in opening Laneites eyes to the world. Mr. Wanzung's advanced class offered college preparatory work for future biologists. In addition, new glassware and dissecting specimens were obtained.

We Salute General Science

GENERAL SCIENCE STUDENTS ARE preparing to do an experiment, with the girls directing, of course.

By participating in selected science activities, students learned scientific processes, such as observation, measurement and communications. Concepts which the GENERAL SCIENCE program encompassed consisted of understanding basic technical symbols, words, charts, diagrams, and pictures.

Teaching typing to those students who elected it, Miss Brown also headed the TYPING DEPARTMENT. An important change for this course entailed giving the students a half credit for one year of typing. No credit was given for a half year of typing.

Through the addition of various kinds of equipment, rooms 251 and 247 have been brought closer to the DRAFTING DEPARTMENT's goal of modernization. New lesson plans for the teaching of metrical measurement and for the double period advanced drafting classes have been developed for next year. A micro-film file of the students' work was also developed.

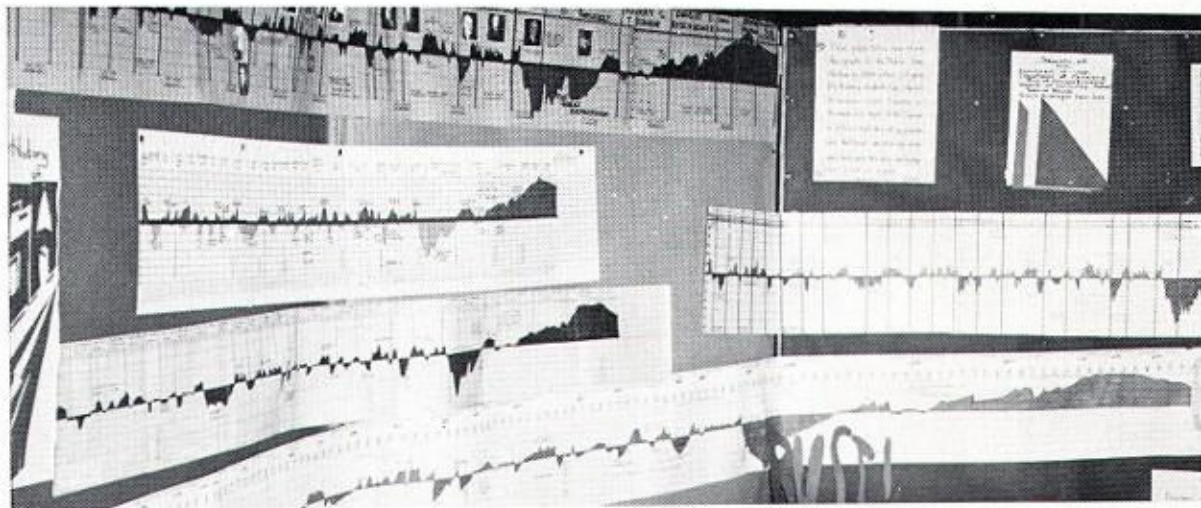

PREPARING TO HAND in a drawing, this student is cleaning off the plate.

DRAFTING "RULES" the life of this student

Those Were the Days

HISTORY entailed much more than memorizing names and dates of days gone by. For example, Ms. Childs' class won a George Washington Medal Award from the Freedom's Foundation Valley Forge. She was also in charge of International Day. Mr. O'Malley headed the drug program, which was open to any interested students. The department purchased new books.

Foreign Entanglements

Using audio and visual aids and the latest available text books, the LANGUAGE DEPARTMENT worked toward making Lane students knowledgeable in the language and customs of foreign countries.

The department head worked toward introducing a third and fourth level of study in each language except Latin.

They Saw and Conquer

Freshmen entering Lane had the chance to carve the beginnings of a future vocation in the WOODSHOP course. Shields, Indian head carvings, and footstools were constructed as students learned planing, squaring, and gluing techniques. New equipment included disc sanders, wood-turning lathes and planers.

Switch Hitters

Future electricians had a good start in their freshman year when they took the ELECTRIC SHOP course. Students learned how to handle tools and equipment in addition to building electronic circuits and projects such as power supplies, motors, continuity checkers, and radios. Some of the equipment used were the oscilloscope and ohmmeters.

CIRCUIT CONSTRUCTION is part of the training of electric shop students.

THIS IS NOT CALLED THE French Connection but a soldered connection.

EXPERIMENTING WITH and investigating different types of circuits occupies this students attention.

Shops Are A Gas

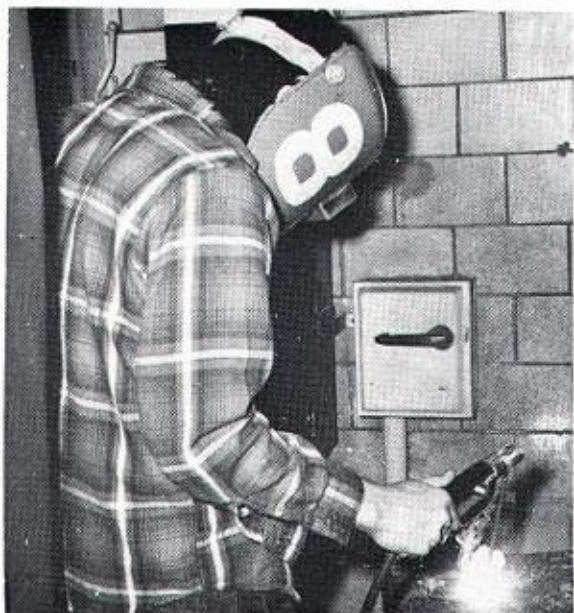

Basic procedures in arc and acetylene welding were taught by Mr. Gorny in the WELDING SHOP.

Students acquired a broad knowledge in casting, molding and other metallurgical processes in Lane's FOUNDRY. Mementos of the school, such as Indian heads, plaques, and book ends were among the projects cast by the students.

Introducing Laneites to the technical age, the MACHINE SHOP course taught basic techniques on the engine lathe, drill press and milling machine.

Print Shop Presses on

Many printers of the GRAPHIC ARTS department applied their trades to many practical jobs this year. From the Warrior to the Tech Prep to the Arrowhead, professionalism was seen in the quality of the jobs as they came off of the finest printing equipment available to the high schools of the city.

Lane is the only high school in the city that prints its own yearbook entirely on its own equipment.

At Home on the Range

Sophmores who yearned to learn how to drive, took DRIVERS EDUCATION during their gym classes. They received thirty hours of classroom training, which included movies, lectures, and simulated driving before heading out to the range.

The range phase of the course gave student drivers the experience of handling a car. Then it was off to the street.

MR. BANNOR GIVES HIS students some sage advice on good driving.

I GUESS THIS IS ONE WAY to avoid heavy traffic; but where does it get you?

HE'LL NEVER RUN out of gas.

A Choking Experience

AUTO SHOP students worked to gain good performance from the cars brought into the shops. Students were allowed to work on their automobiles and those of the faculty. They furthered their mechanical abilities through Lane's shops and teachers. One of their main projects was the conditioning of a '54 Cadillac for the purpose of selling it.

FOR GEGNER, COMPRESSING piston rings is an all absorbing task.

They Scale the Heights

Under the direction of Mr. Louis Frasca, the SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA presented the works of Bach, Bock, and Sibelius at its spring concert. Much attention was given to the All-City Ensemble contest in February, and many members performed in the All-City Orchestra. During the Christmas season the orchestra and the chorus presented the popular carols as well as more serious selections.

These Folks Dig Lines and Strokes

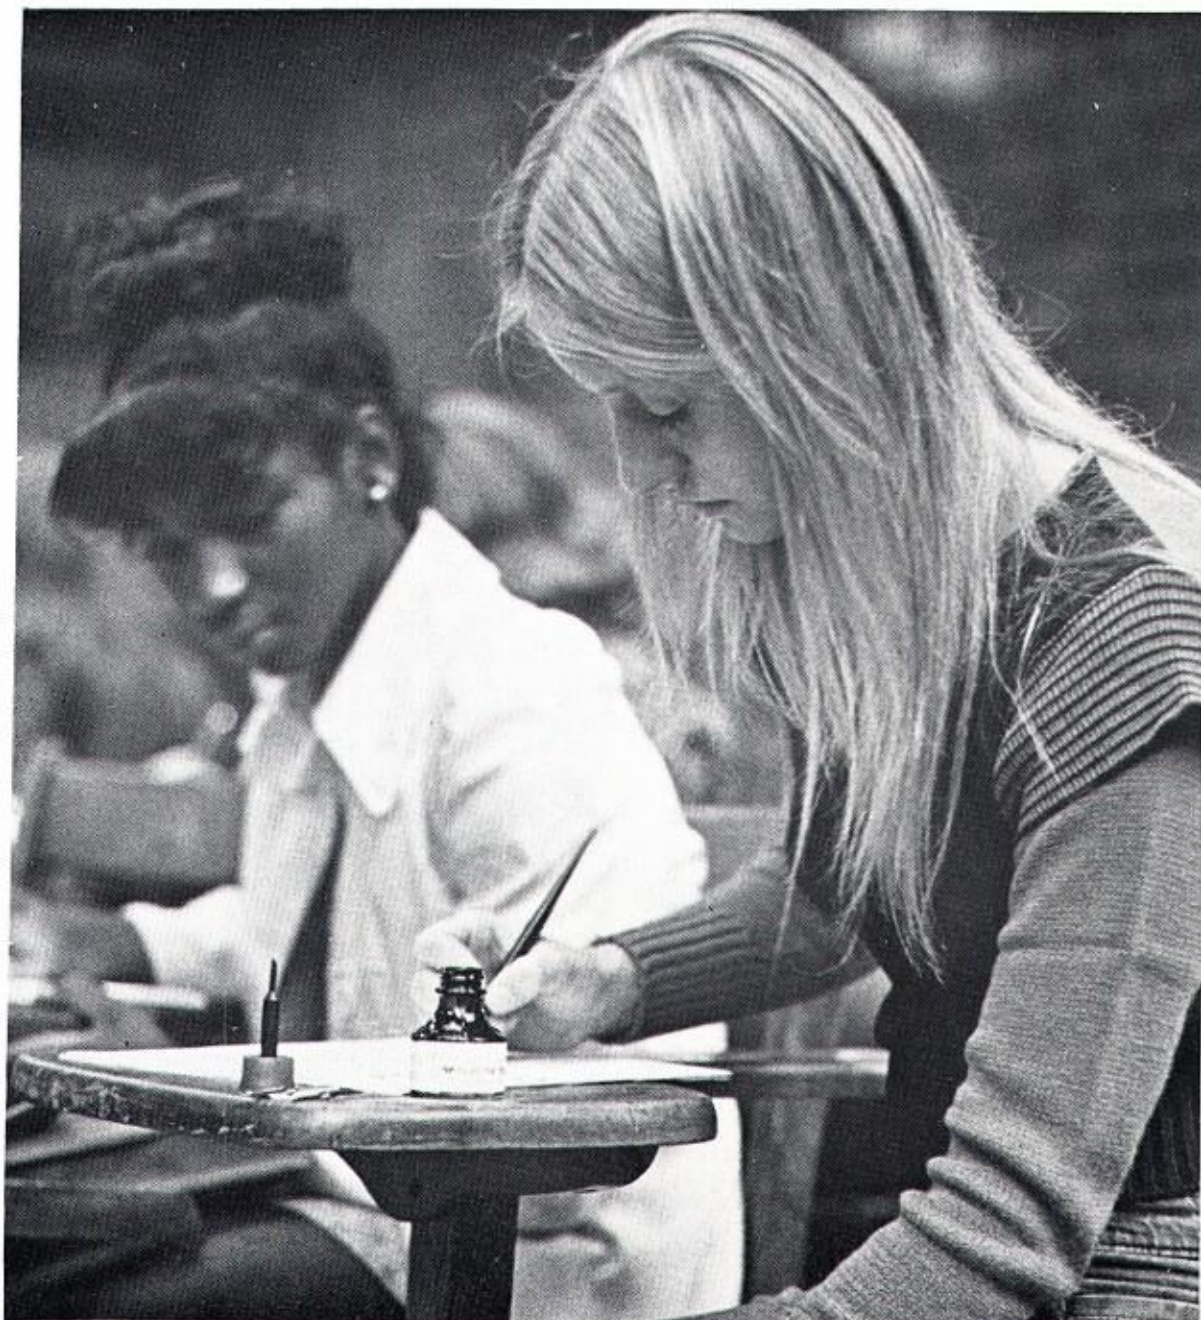

Lane's ART DEPARTMRNT found itself with bigger and better facilities this year. One old room was transformed into three modern rooms. Most art majors spent two periods a day in the art room. The art program covered everything from painting and drawing to sculpting and printing.

Muscle Hustle

Additions to Lane's PHYSICAL EDUCATION DEPARTMENT this year were Mr. Locke and Mrs. Porter. Boy's gym classes were instructed in the basics of wrestling, gymnastics and basketball, while girls learned modern dance and volleyball. Under Mr. Pretzel the department obtained a new swim scoreboard and a sidehorse for the gymnastics team. Repairs were also made on the Universal weight machines in Gym 5.

Prudent Students

Orienting and counseling incoming freshmen was the responsibility of the BIG BROTHERS. Members of the N.H.S. and Key Club formed this organization. They toured Lane with the newcomers on orientation day. Lane's STUDENT COURT, a special division of the student council, served as an example of the judiciary process by handling minor offenses. The GAVEL CLUB consisted of the presidents of Lane's clubs and organizations. Their chief interest was to arbitrate the grievances between the students and the administration.

Composed of the top intellectual minds of Lane, the NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY concluded an era of male dominance within its academic ranks this year with the admission of qualified girls.

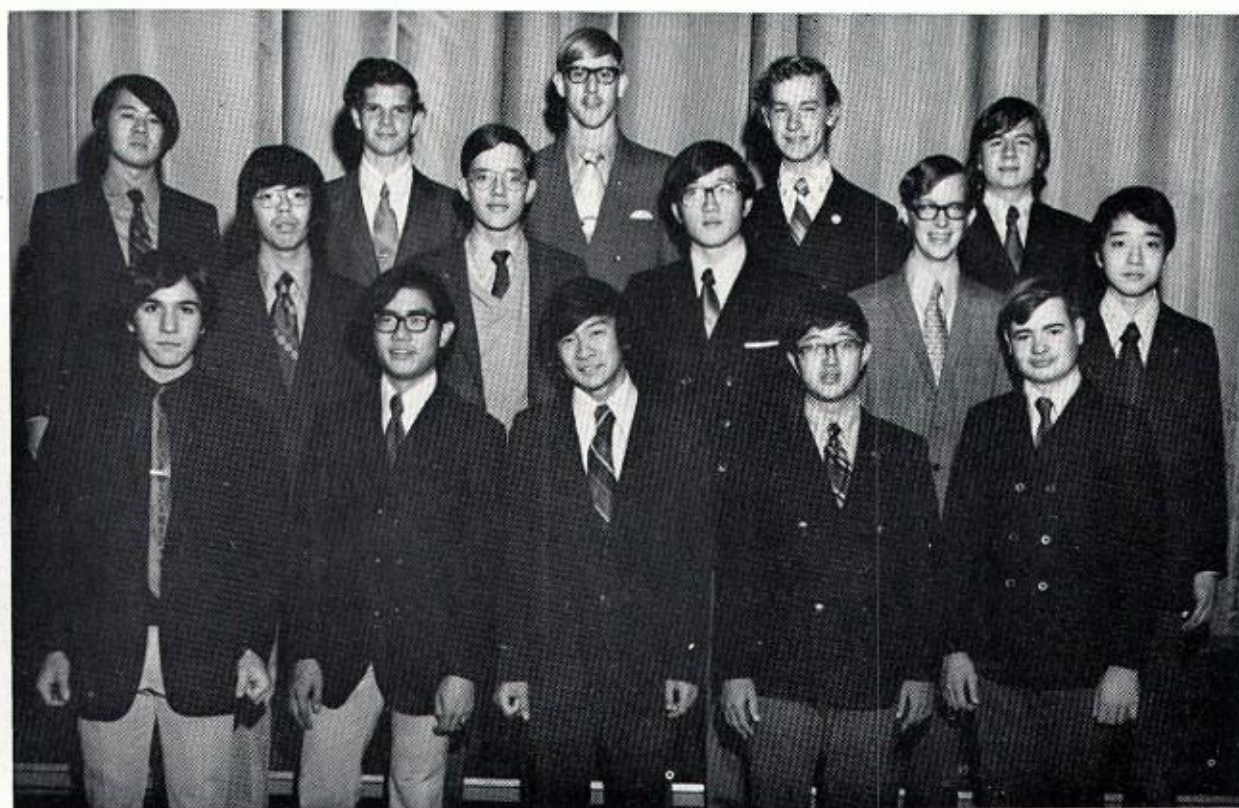

This year's activities, under the direction of Mr. Bauer, included the revision of the "This is Lane" handbook, ushering at College Day, the offering of a one-thousand dollar scholarship to a graduating member, and the upkeep of a "Lane in the News" bulletin board.

Order was kept among students who arrived early in the auditorium by the "0" PERIOD AUDITORIUM GUARDS. In addition, these twenty-two volunteers made certain no unauthorized persons entered the building before 7:45 A.M.

Keeping order in the halls during classes was the job of the HALLGUARDS. Making sure all the lockers were in order and apprehending students without written passes were only a minute part of the services rendered by this staff of Laneites.

ASKING THIS STUDENT for a pass is one of Mr. Zelden's vigilant hallguards.

Headed by Mrs. Anderson, the LOST AND FOUND AIDES provided the school with many services. These included running off the daily bulletin, marking lockers for repair, selling locks for lockers, caring for lost articles, sorting school mail, and reproducing material on the ditto and mimeograph machines.

Using a secluded corner of room 118 as their headquarters, the ATTENDANCE OFFICE AIDES were occupied with filing and with tracking down students who were to receive discipline.

Aides to Order

Seven years ago a group of students known as RODGER'S RAIDERS started as a service group to the school. The original members, who are now in college, started as counselor aides, and members of the security staff at the social dances.

The second group of Rodger's Raiders followed in the foot steps of their predecessors.

The COUNSELOR AIDES acted as messengers, filled out and completed clerical forms, filed, typed, and in general were of great assistance to the counselors.

They Fancy Dances

"Gathering", "Tychobrahe" and "Duckbutter" were some of the main groups set-up for Lane dances by the SOCIAL CENTER COMMITTEE. Three separate committees were formed to take care of the cloakroom, set-up and chaperone. Co-chairmen Glenn Gelman, Tom Walejeski, and Mark Zanders produced six socials this year. However, because of lack of funds the Board of Education has discontinued all social center activities for the rest of the year.

What on Earth

Student awareness was the prime reason for the existence of Lane's ECOLOGY CLUB. The club succeeded in getting students to realize the importance of the condition their world.

On March 24, 1973, the ECOLOGY CLUB delegates attended the C.A.P. meeting, which was working on a bill of rights for Lake Michigan. During the last two weeks of April the club sponsored an ecology contest and awarded prizes to students for their efforts.

Keeping the lunchroom from looking like the city dump was not an easy task. A World of Fun

On March 7, a banner in Gym 3 proclaimed "Lane Shrinks The World". No, it wasn't the Science Fiction Society's latest film flick, but was the scene of the third annual INTERNATIONAL DAY. Sponsored by Mrs. Yvonne Childs, ethnic groups from the seven continents exhibited their unusual cultural and social customs.

Later in the day, participants, dressed in their traditional costumes, performed folk songs, folk dances, and several other cultural demonstrations. That night another performance was given for the PTSA. Unity, peace, and love of all people were perceived by everyone, as Lane had indeed shrunk the world.

HOW SWEET IT IS! They could have danced all night at the military ball.

This year's R.O.T.C. MILITARY BALL was held on April 21st in the Gold Room of the Pick Congress Hotel. This was the largest social function held and an event for both officers and cadets to look forward to.

At such a large event as this a queen is chosen by a panel of judges. The lovely winner this year was Ramona Torres.

Grade A Government Inspected

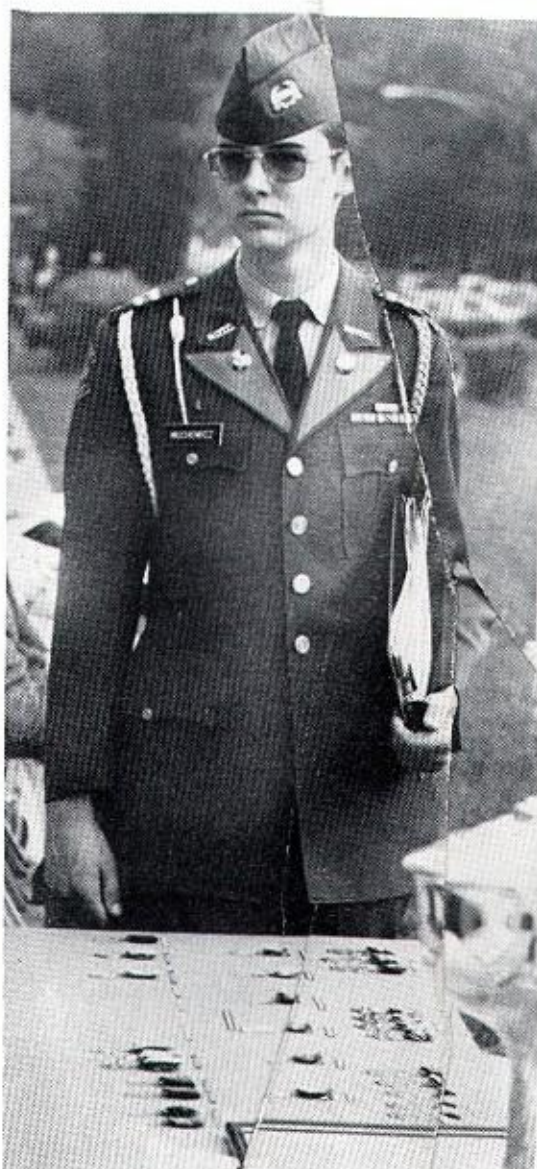

Lane's R.O.T.C. had a new chance to prove that Lane is number one once again, after coming in second in last year's FEDERAL INSPECTION. This year the inspectors from Fort Sam Houston inspected Lane's illustrious brigade, and although at this writing results were not final, Cdt. Col. Lauris Freidenfelds and the brigade expected to come in with flying colors.

A Happy Return

Trying to "Remember When", the HOMECOMING COMMITTEE, headed by Mrs. Soelter, created a Homecoming Day that will be remembered for a long time by many Laneites.

The Homecoming game was played successfully against Taft, with the queen and her court presented at half-time, as well as the numerous beautiful floats.

The victory dance was held later that evening, and the queen, Barbara Mester, was crowned in the traditional ceremony.

Junior Journalists

Providing the latest on the Lane scene, the LANE WARRIOR received a first place award from the Columbia Scholastic Press Association. Under Mr. Thomas Rogers, the bi-weekly Warrior set a new record in issues printed by breaking the old mark of eleven. The newly formed journalism classes provided the nucleus for their forty-plus reporters. Students in this elective class were required to submit an article a week in order to keep up the high quality of our school newspaper.

No Miscues with Issues

During Campaign Week, Lane's halls were decorated with the annual display of colorful banners by the annual display of colorful banners and posters of candidates seeking the position of SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS. After the candidates presented their platforms to the students, the hard work came to an end and the campaign was climaxed in the actual election. The elected officers were President Jaime Levonian, Vice-Pres. David Schertler, Secretary Ekward Ozaki, Treasurer George Repa, and Sgt.-at-Arms James McCarthy.

Step in Style

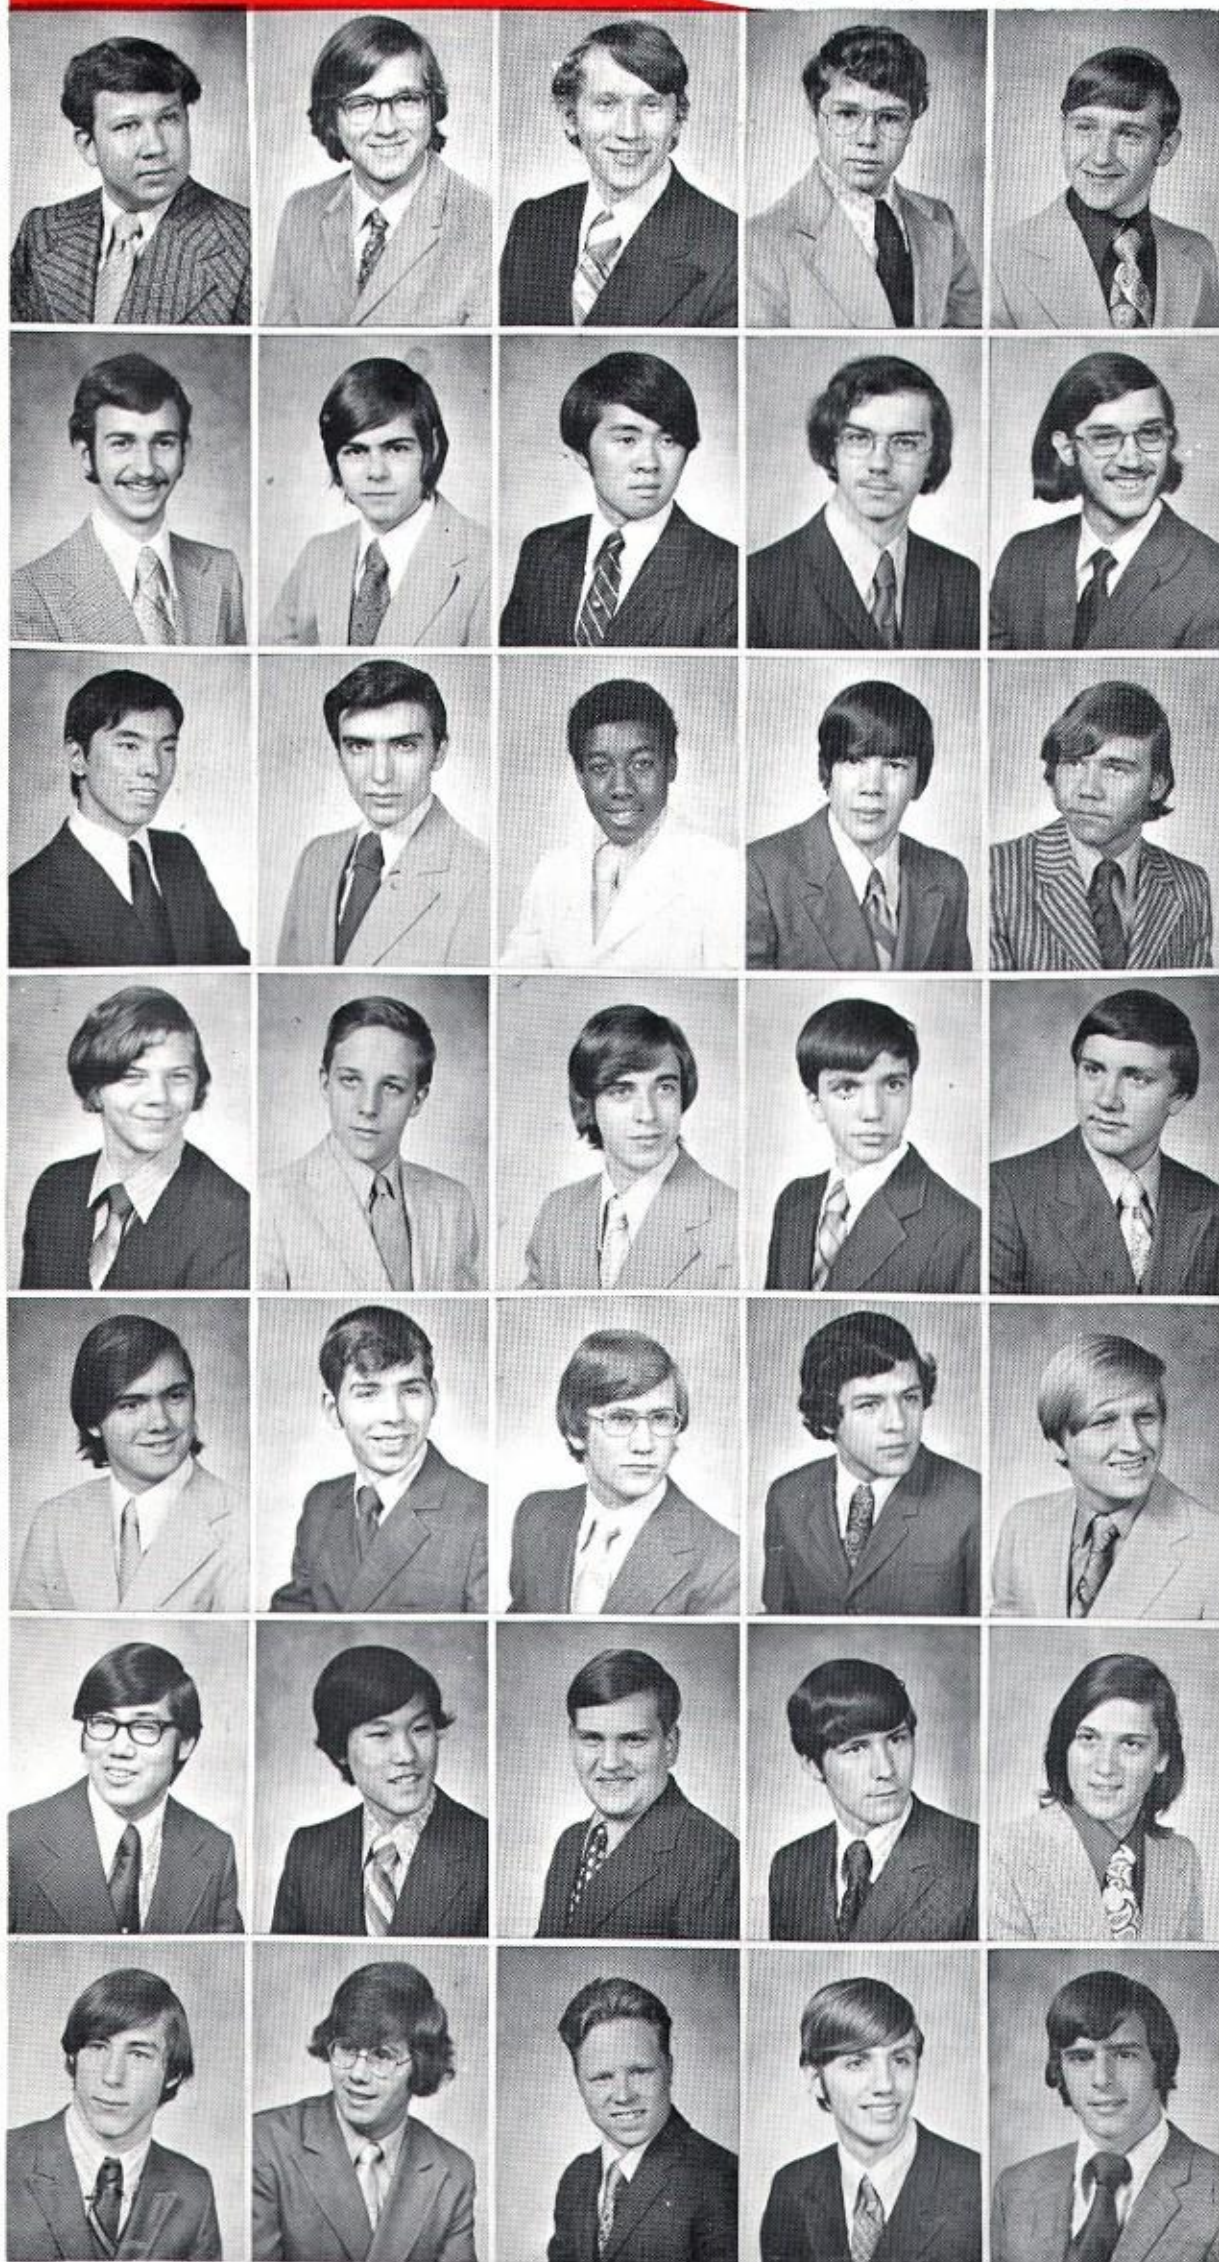

Beware the Ides of March not the date, the rock group. They combined with Stix to play at Lane's SENIOR PROM, held in the Regency Hyatt House on May 30, 1973. Even though there were no assassinations with the arrival of the Ides of March, there was still enough excitement for every one. Prom goers went on various picnics after a sleepless night.

Last Class Without A Lass

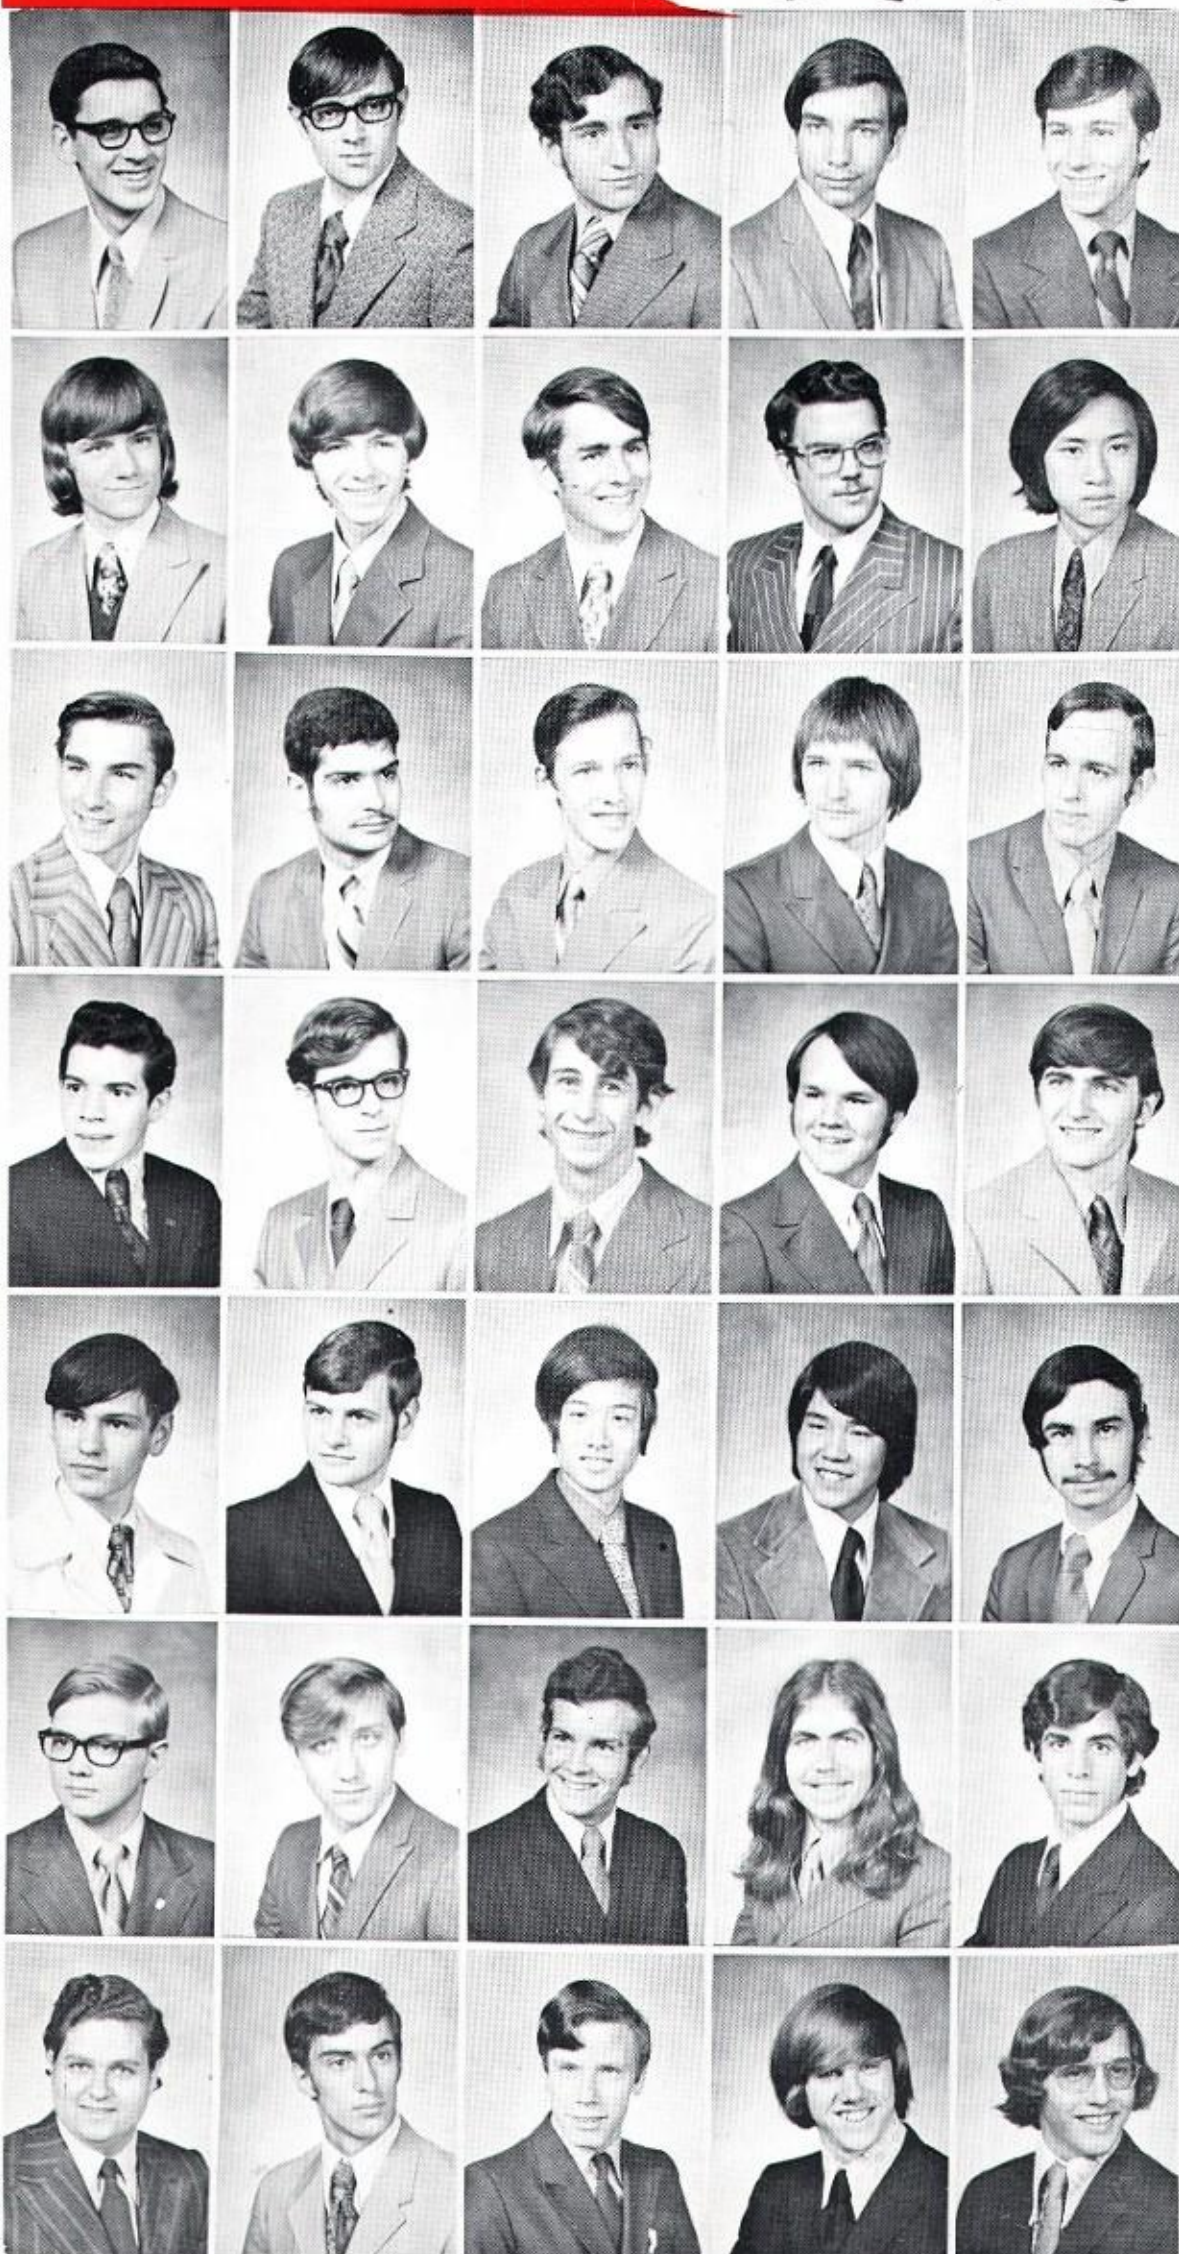

Commencement exercises for the last all male GRADUATION CLASS took place on June 12, 1973. The admission of girls into Lane has broken the all male tradition. The Lane stadium was the site for the commencement of 940 graduates. Mr. Golden, directing the Lane Marching Band, opened the exercises with "Pomp and Chivalry" by Roberts and closed with the traditional recessional, composed by a former Laneite.

Senior Planners Plot the Way

All the "myrtle and gold" that goes along with a senior of the last all male graduating class didn't just happen.

It was the responsibility of the SENIOR CLASS COMMITTEES to see to it that the prom, ring, gift, pictures, announcements, and finances were all in order. These combined efforts showed the pride the seniors had in Lane, as an era comes to an end.

Knowledge of College

What lasted three periods, got juniors out of a few classes and influenced the futures of many students lives? COLLEGE DAY!

Representatives of schools from all over Illinois and some from out of state came and showed their wares to the prospective customers. Students were encouraged to talk to the representatives, asking questions, and picking up catalogues and applications.

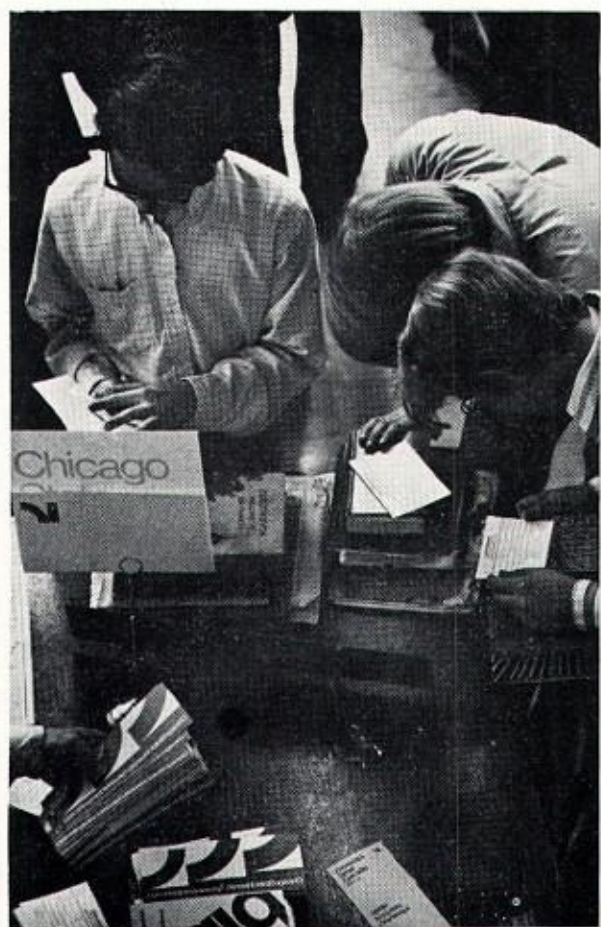

Although college day was geared toward juniors, seniors were also welcome to come.

Indians in Downtown

In all of Al Manasin's nineteen years as the head coach of Lane's VARSITY FOOTBALL TEAM, he has never had a losing season. The Indians kept up this winning tradition, posting an 8-2 seasons record. Their record of five wins and no losses was the best in the Red Division as they took the North Section Title. However, the tribe went down in defeat to Fenger in the semi-finals at Soldier Field.

Most valuable player, guard John Luszczyk, was selected to the all-state team along with fullback Michael Morgan, who gained 1281 yards and scored 20 touchdowns. Making the all-city team for Lane were Phil Ferguson, Steve Bleizeffer, Barry Newmark and Micheal Kieta.

Pigskin Partners

Coach Al Manasin Jr. proved that winning runs in the family. Along with his assistant coach Al Gonzalez, he guided the SOPHOMORE FOOTBALL TEAM to a 7-1 record and the city championship. Tilden proved to be a tough foe as the championship game went into overtime. The Indians pulled it out, as Glenn Smith crossed the goal line with the winning touchdown.

This years most valuable player was Henry Guzik and the most improved player was Oscar Velasco.

Attending all football and basketball games, Lane's CHEERLEADERS generated enthusiasm and promoted good sportmanship. This year's squad was the first to feature Lane's newly admitted girls. They met twice a week to perfect their cheers and routines. Working together with the Sportsmen, the girls exemplified true school spirit.

At a pep rally, Bob DeBock leads the cheers while Karen Shaffer and John Weber execute some fancy tricks.

Led by Steve Martinez, Fred Flores and Edward Kolasinski, Coach Bill Lewis' striders placed 12th in state and 1st in the All-City meet versus the Catholic League.

Lane's FROSH-SOPH CROSS COUNTRY TEAM, led by Rene Casteneda and Cecil Navarro, swept past all league opponents to claim the Public League Championship. Under coaches William Lewis and Barney McCall, the tribe lost only four dual meets and finished 2nd in the Ridgewood Invitational and 3rd in the Proviso West and Wright Invitationals.

PERSOMNIE

In Memoriam

"No man is an island, entire of itself; ...any man's death diminishes me because I am involved in mankind." John Donne's words were never more true.

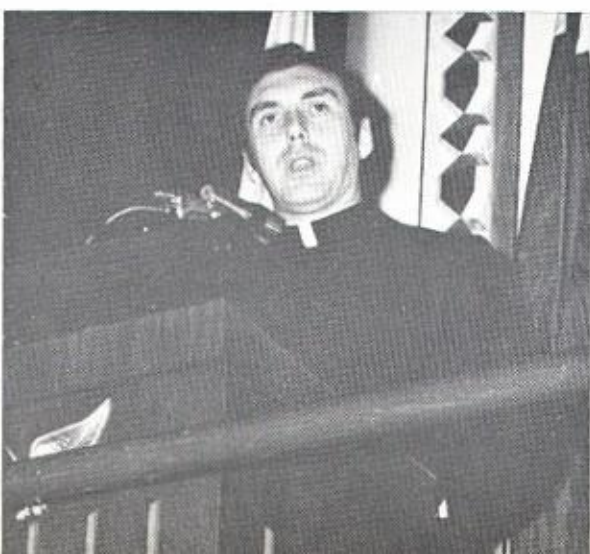

Dr. Donald J. Racky was principal of Lane from 1966 until his death on February 15, 1973. With his passing comes the end of an era at Lane marked by the most change and renovation since the present building was constructed. Yet in an age when innovation is the dominating fact of our society, a man must be judged on more than the changes he has brought about; he must be measured against the permanence of his influence, a body of thoughts and ideals communicated to others, which will never be changed or forgotten.

During years of instability and disharmony he maintained an atmosphere at Lane in which protests could be made without disrupting the primary purpose of the school, learning. He knew that without knowledge of the past, an understanding of the present, and the ability to make reasonable decisions for the future, all rooted in the learning process, anyone crying out for change, for a new direction, was merely a voice echoing emptily. This is the legacy left by Dr. Racky, a man who will be deeply missed by many.

No man can just stop being. The body may cease to function; its presence may be noted as missing, but he will not stop being. For man consists of much more than that which we can only see. He has left us, but he is not gone.

Teammates

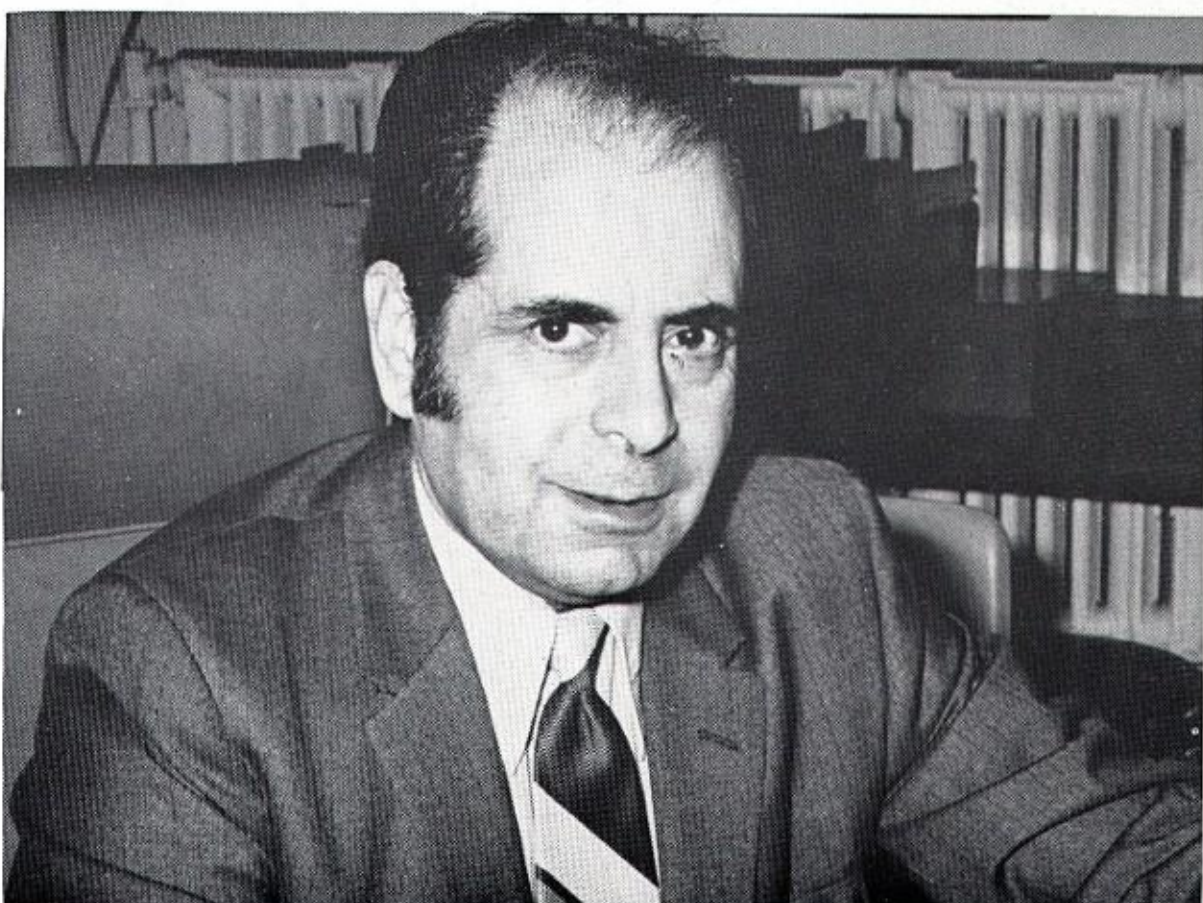

Teamwork among the ASSISTANT PRINCIPALS accounted for the smooth running of Lane. Because of the death of Dr. Racky, Mr. Lowman was acting principal. Mr. Durante headed the shops. Dean of discipline was Mr. Pauly. Taking charge of students was Mr. Mazarakos. Mr. Bauer saw to it that each student was programmed correctly. Mr. Lynch was involved in teacher personnel, substituting for Mr. Lowman.

Plane Fun

Flying paper airplanes was a profitable business for some Laneites this year. The SPRING FLING, another one of Mr. Zak's ideas, was held on April 5, 1973. Mr. Zak supplied the designs for different planes taken from The Great International Paper Airplane Book. The winner, for time, was John S. Hendry; 15.1 seconds, and for distance, Ray Feracota; 122 feet.

IS IT a bird? Is it Superman? No, it's a plane.

MR. ZAK'S POSTERS help to get his spring fling off the ground.

MAYBE HE IS waiting for the most favorable air currents.

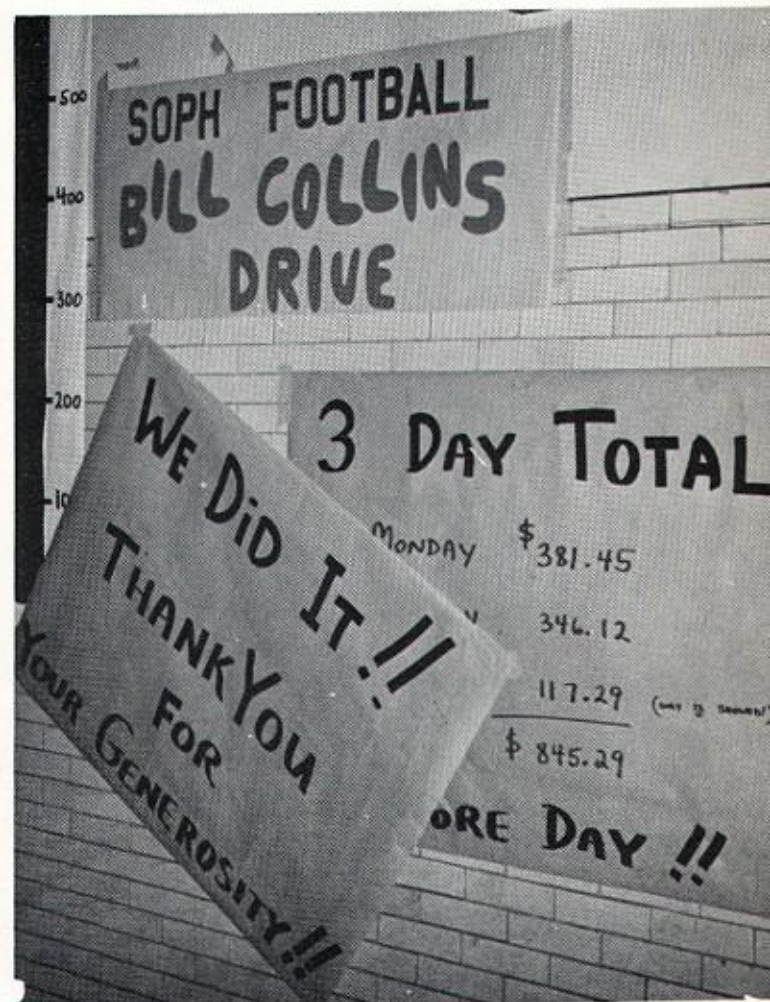

WOW! That one should fly for at least a half hour.

Thank Goodness

PAT O'MALLEY presents the check to Bill Collins.

Bill Collins, a Laneite, was struck by an automobile and suffered the loss of a leg. Because of the resulting financial strain, the sophomore football team organized the Bill Collins Drive. The student body donated one thousand dollars, which was matched by the one thousand dollars raised through the faculty fund drive.

MR. ZAK'S SIGNS indicate the progress of the Bill Collins fund drive.

SELECTED FOR THE all-city football team were Kilta, Moffat, Ferguson, Luszcz, Morgan, Newmark, and Bleizeffer.

Muscular Might

Athletic prowess has always been a part of the Lane tradition. On these pages are shown the ATHLETIC STARS that have helped Lane to maintain its high rank among the schools of the city. Truly, these sportsmen may be called the "Men of Lane."

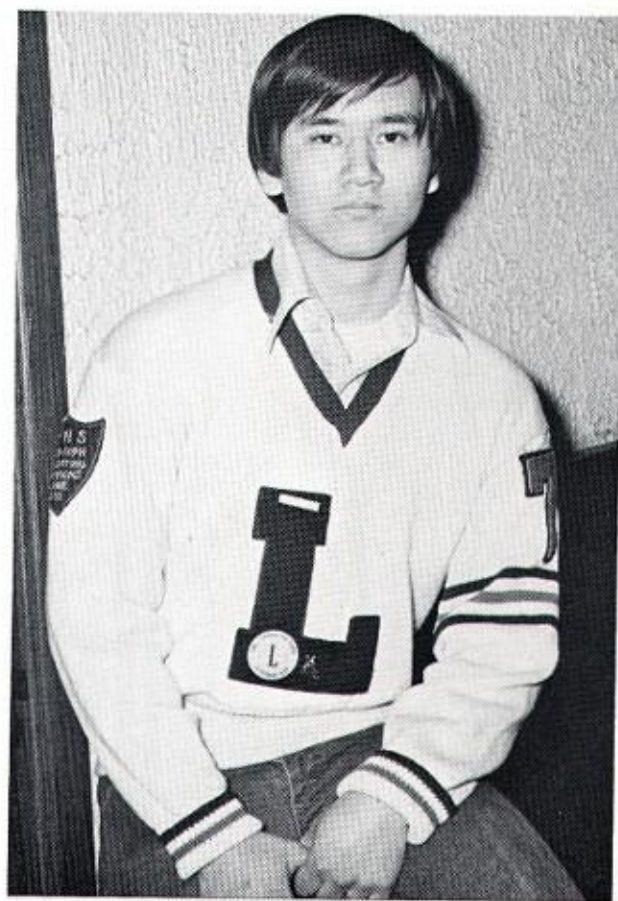

IN CITY WRESTLING competition, Barry Newmark placed 2nd in 185 pound division and BoB Schirmer won 1st in the 105 pound division.

GIVEN ALL STAR recognition by being selected to the all-star football team were Michael Morgan and John Luszcz.

SARGES, Broda, Co-captains - Doherty and Kittner, were individual frosh-soph city champions in speed ice skating.

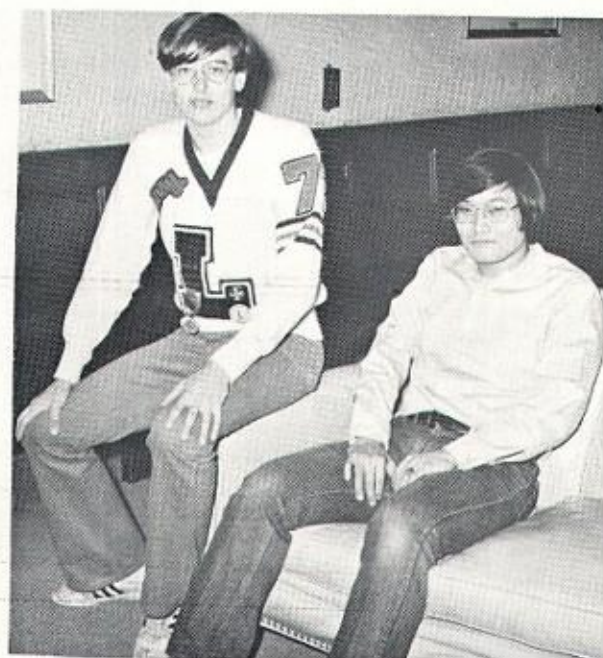

LEONARD SAKODA who is on the varsity ice skating team was city champion in the 880 yard race.

STANDING: Louis Carr, Dennis Kern, Kevin Newell. SEATED: Cecil Navarro, Tim Klein, Steve Martinez. Carr, Kern, Newell and Klein were on the varsity mile relay team which took the city championship. Kern also won the varsity half mile. Navarro was the fosh-soph mile city champ. Klein won the 70 yard low hurdles. Martinez won the varsity 2 mile city championship.

WALTER TERRY AND Gerald Nojiri won the city doubles championship in bowling.

IN THE VARSITY city cross country meet Kolasinski was fourth and Fred Flores came in Steve Martinez came in first, William Eisenbeis second, was eighth, Louis Arce came in sixth, Ed

IN THE FROSH-SOPH city cross country meet, Cecil Navarro came in third and Rene Casteneda came in first.

STANDING: James Meason, Robert Robicsek, individual 50 yard breaststroke. Senne took city in the 100 yard individual medley. Keifer placed first in the 100 yard freestyle. Reis won city in the 50 yard butterfly.

IN THE VARSITY city swim meet Bruce Wimer won the 50 yard freestyle and 100 yard butterfly. Robert Streed won the 220 yard freestyle, the 100 yard freestyle. Tim Wimer, seated, was on the winning freestyle relay team along with Bruce and Robert.

Deck the Halls

Mr. Zak's group of zealous workers was responsible for giving Lane's halls a new look. Clever signs announcing coming events provided a renewed school spirit. Mr. Zak sponsored the Spring Fling and the Athlete of the Year award. Free tickets to Lane's events were the prizes awarded to those who solved Mr. Zak's variety of puzzles.

"Death Be Not Proud"

Robert Golchert taught English at Lane from 1968 until his death on July 20, 1972, when a drowning accident in Mexico caused his untimely death. He had been active in Chicago schools since his graduation from Milliken University in 1960.

Enlisting in the army in 1941, MSG Thomas D. Logan retired in 1968. He became an ROTC instructor at Lane at that time and remained until he died on October 28, 1972. The much-decorated veteran is survived by his widow and three sons.

The passing of these men was saddening, and they will be missed by faculty and students alike.

The Grade A Way

Excelling not only in sports but also in academics, Lane has earned its reputation of being 'number one'. The students pictured on this page represent only a small portion of that extraordinary intellectual talent which has become a tradition and to whom we point proudly as being Laneites.

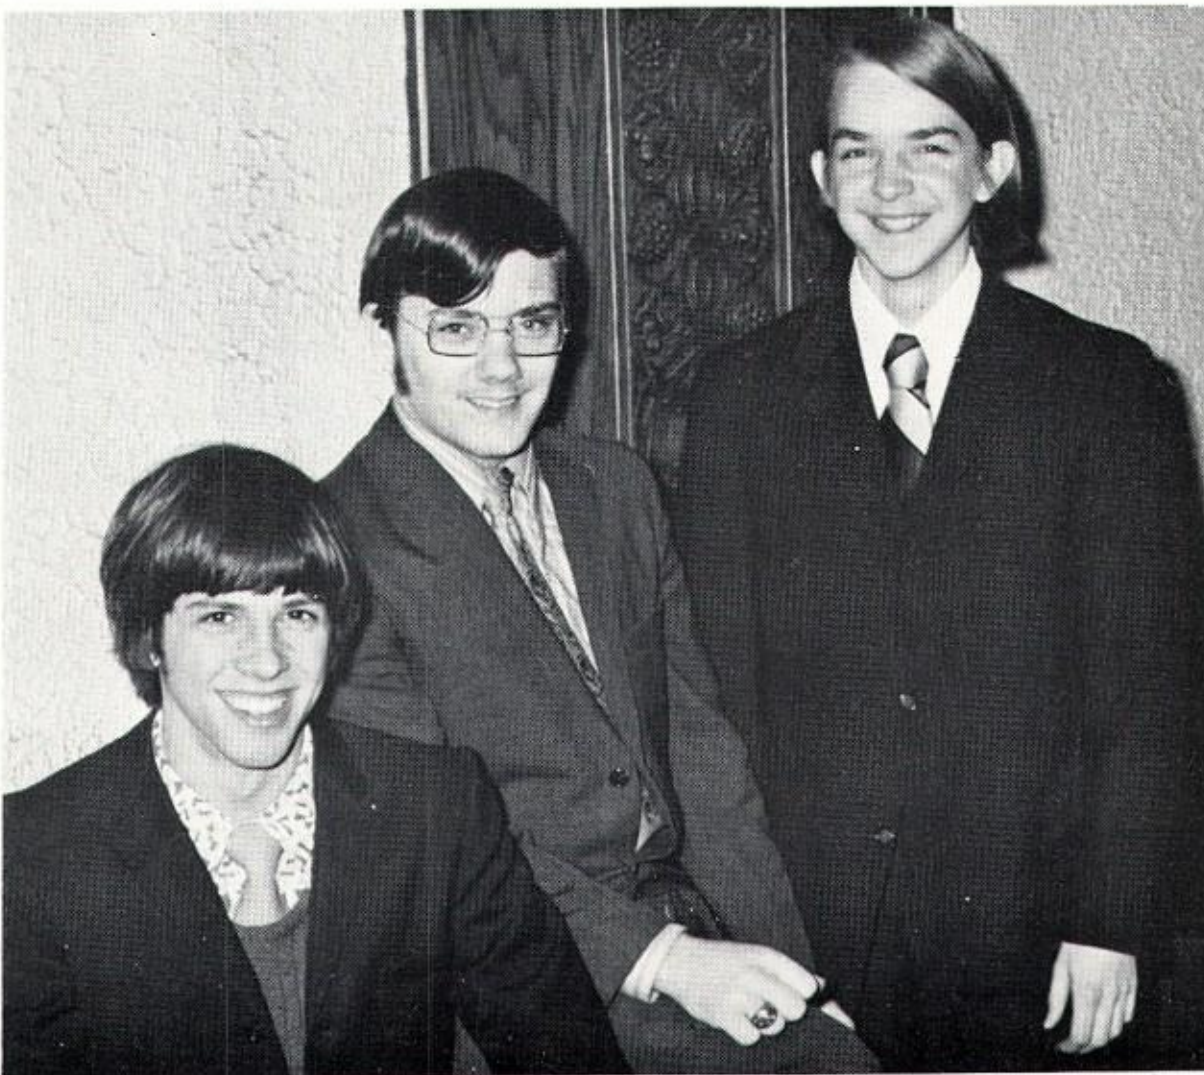

STANDING: Peter Matic, Ken Louie. SEATED: Frank Bussa. These boys were members of the City Corps Staff.

IN THE AMERICAN Institute of Design and Drafting National Competition, Arturs Ezerins won a second place award and Christ Zafiris placed third.

ROCHELLE HARRIS WAS at the head of the Seniors and Adam Janczewski was the top Sophomore Class. Richard Kadota led the Junior.

CARTER MECHER, WALTER URBANSKI, and Richard Kufta were the top three winners in the M. A. A. contest.
